Community Profiles from the Virginia Employment Commission

—Providing a detailed labor market analysis of all 134 cities and counties, 17 Workforce Investment Areas, and statewide Virginia—

RICHMOND—The Virginia Employment Commission (VEC) is proud to introduce the newly revamped Community Profile reports for the Commonwealth of Virginia and all of its localities. Each report contains an in-depth analysis of the area's demographic, economic, and educational characteristics. Community Profiles are available for all 134 cities and counties, 17 Workforce Investment Areas, and statewide Virginia. These reports are freely available online and can be accessed through the VELMA (Virginia's Electronic Labor Market Access) website at <http://velma.virtuallmi.com>.

The Economic Information Services Division at the VEC developed the Community Profiles using state-of-the-art reporting software. The reports are dynamically integrated into Virginia's ALMIS (America's Labor Market Information System) database and are updated automatically whenever new data is added. Each report is available in Adobe® PDF format, which allows for high quality printing as well as viewing on-screen.
